

Suspect, 16, arrested for gunning down Brooklyn teen planning to join Army after graduating high school

Apr 06, 2023 at 9:18 am

A 16-year-old suspect has been arrested for gunning down a Brooklyn teen planning to join the Army after graduating high school.

The suspect was nabbed by NYPD cops at his home on Wednesday and charged with murder and weapon possession. Police did not release his name because he's a juvenile.

The adolescent suspect is accused of shooting Graig Bassett as the 17-year-old victim left YaYa Deli on Saratoga Ave. near Prospect Place in Brownsville just before 5 p.m. March 15.

The shooter was also inside the deli and had just bought a bottle of water when he shot Bassett, police sources said.